THREE MAY BE A CROWD but it's a welcome crowd for Danny and Eddee Kamp of Granite City. The parents show off new triplets with the aid of son Dustin. The children, born Monday, are named Kelsey Jo, Lyndsey Rhea and Drew Gregory. The photo, taken Wednesday, was the first time all the babies had been together since birth.

Granite couple has triplets

GRANITE CITY — The Kamp household, it is safe to say, will never be the same.

Danny and Eddee Kamp greeted not one but three smiling faces this week at Barnes Hospital with the arrival of triplets — the first such birth for Granite Citizens in what appears to be many years.

The triplets, two girls and a boy, were born Monday, Aug. 20, starting with Kelsey Jo at 11:10, Lyndsey Rhea at 11:11 and Drew Gregory at 11:12 a.m., weighing in at 5 lbs., 2 oz., 4 lbs., 14 oz., and 6 lbs., 6 oz., respectively. The new parents are taking a relaxed attitude toward the new arrivals and are looking forward to having the new babies at home. They will be joining a brother, Dustin, 8½.

Dustin said he wants to take his new siblings to Show and Tell at school.

The Kamps found out on Feb. 12 that they would be having triplets and, in early April, found out the sexes.

They expect that the babies will need to be fed every two or three hours and will mostly sleep for the next few weeks, but as any parent knows babies have a tendency to be unpredictable.

The triplets were born five weeks premature by normal gestation standards but were three weeks late for triplets, Mrs. Kamp said.

The mother received a C-section for the births.

Drew Gregory had fluid in his lungs when born and was transferred to St. Louis Children's Hospital for one day and then returned to Barnes to be with his sisters. The triplets may get to go home this weekend, but the parents weren't sure as of Wednesday afternoon.

This is the first multiple birth in the Kamp family, and it appears to be the first set of triplets in years in Granite City.

Ken Moser, a spokesman for St. Elizabeth's Medical Center, said the last set of triplets born at that facility was in either 1976 or 1978 to a family by the name of Dutko.

Older residents also recall a Lux family had triplets many years before that.

The Kamps live in the 1600 block of Lindell. She is a native of Granite City; he has lived here six years.

Maternal grandmother is Shelby Kinney of Granite City. Paternal grandparents are Greg and Agnes Kamp of Golden Eagle.

Shopping plaza on hold Aquacenter must come first

By Andy Siering

PONTOON BEACH — A major shopping center that developers had contemplated building in the village has been placed on hold until a decision is made on where the Mid-America Aquacenter will be built.

Mathis Properties had been interested in building a 300,000 square-foot shopping center on the southeast corner of Interstate 270 and Illinois 111. But Dan Kempland, an official with the company, said, "It's all up in the air right now."

The reason is uncertainty over where the Aquacenter will be built.

Pontoon Beach had made the first bid to bring the Aquacenter here, but lately Collinsville has been trying to attract the Aquacenter to a location nearer to its Gateway Center convention facility.

On June 21, the Collinsville Metropolitan Exposition Auditorium and Office Building Authority voted to seek a $450,000 grant from the Illinois Department of Conservation to pay for a comprehensive study of the Aquacenter project.

On July 31, the convention authority voted to request up to $17 million from the state to build the Aquacenter. It has not heard yet whether either grant would be forthcoming.

Emert Wyss, whose family owns about 450 acres of land in Pontoon Beach, including the land bounding all four quadrants of the intersection of I-270 and Illinois 111, confirmed that the proposed shopping center was "tabled" until the location of the Aquacenter is determined.

Wyss has offered to donate to the Aquacenter about 55 acres on the southeast quadrant of the intersection.

But Wyss said, "Other people

City official facing duty

GRANITE CITY — Brett Hanke sees Saudi Arabia in his near future.

The city's public works director, Hanke, is also a major in the 35th Engineer Brigade of the Missouri National Guard. He expects President George Bush's decision yesterday to activate some Army Reserve and National Guard soldiers will eventually include him.

The call-up reportedly will immediately involve 40,000 reservists, but it is also reportedly an open-ended order.

Since Iraq's invasion of Kuwait on Aug. 2, the U.S. has deployed roughly 35,000 soldiers to the Middle East, including elements of the 82nd Airborne Division, the 101st Airborne Division and the 24th Infantry Division, to defend Saudi Arabia's borders.

Active duty units make up only one-half of the U.S. Army's units under the Total Force Concept. The other half is made up of reserve and National Guard units.

In the case of engineer units, Hanke said, about a quarter of the units are active duty, a quarter are reserve and half are National Guard.

"So I figure my chances of being called up are as good as any and better than most," he said. "If I am, I don't figure it will be for just a couple of months. It would be more like a couple of years and maybe forever."

So, Hanke said, he is trying to get his life in order so he'll be ready to go.

Hanke attended Ranger School while in ROTC at the University of Missouri-Rolla. After being commissioned as a second lieutenant in 1972, he attended the Engineer Basic Course and Airborne School before being assigned as a platoon leader in the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C.

He served seven years active duty, including a tour in Germany, and left the Army as a captain.

In 1982, Hanke joined the National Guard. Having been an airborne ranger during the draft era, Hanke admitted his impression of the National Guard was not favorable: "...tents 'dress-right-dress' with the sides rolled up, with the guardsmen sitting around with lawn chairs and coolers and drinking beer."

But, Hanke said he was pleasantly surprised to discover things had changed.

The Total Force Concept, using National Guard and reserve units to "round out" the Army, came into being as Floodwaters were just beginning to recede from all around the area following the heaviest rainfall in history. Early estimates of damage in Madison County caused by the 7½-inch rainfall were more than $300,000 while the water continued to rise.

Head-on crash injures 4

GRANITE CITY — A head-on collision at 8:14 p.m. Wednesday on Illinois 3 at Pontoon Road left four people seriously injured.

Vernon S. Spann, 28, of South Roxana; Samuel E. Noble, 25, of Wood River; Harold W. Ballentine, 48, of the 1400 block of Chateau Place Road; and Sandra D. Murray, 39, of the 3800 block of Kirkpatrick Homes were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by Granite City Ambulance.

Spann and Noble were admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and listed in stable condition Thursday morning.

Ballentine and Murray were transferred to the St. Louis University Hospital.

2 arrested in robbery

GRANITE CITY — A man suspected of robbing the Quik-Trip on Nameoki Road at 2:37 this morning is now in the Granite City jail along with the driver of his getaway car.

Police reported getting an alarm from the store at a time an officer was in a car near the building. An employee reportedly ran out of the store and told the officer the robber was in a white car that was still in view.

The officer chased the car and, after stopping it, the employee identified one of the men as the robber. Police reported finding $102 stuffed down the front of the man's pants.

Bowler's job on hold until sentencing

ALTON — The Alton School District will wait to see whether Paul Ray Bowler goes to prison before deciding whether to hire him.

The Alton Board of Education delayed its consideration of an application from Bowler, 38, for a job teaching students with behavior disorders at Alton High School, according to Superintendent David VanWinkle.

On Monday, a federal judge is expected to sentence Bowler on a felony charge of providing false information on a federal loan application.

Bowler said he was told the board decided Tuesday to wait based on some legal considerations, until a special meeting next Tuesday to make its final decision.

Bowler won't lose his teaching certificate because of the conviction, State Board of Education spokeswoman Kim Knaus said.

And Bowler, who has seven years' experience in teaching children with behavior disorders, said his legal troubles shouldn't keep him from working as a teacher.

"I look forward to the opportunity," Bowler said. The students "could learn from my mistakes. You've got to go on with your life and better yourself."

Bowler's legal troubles are tied to his 1984 purchase of a house and several apartment buildings using loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Bowler admitted he put false information on the loan applications, but said he did so at the instruction of Granite City real estate broker Gary Flood.

Bowler, who is vice president of the Granite City School Board, testified at Flood's trial earlier this month. She was convicted on six counts of giving false information on applications for federally insured loans and one count of conspiring to defraud the U.S. government.

At Flood's trial, Bowler testified Flood told him to overstate his assets in order to qualify for the FHA loans and even loaned him money so he could show it in his bank account.

Bowler said he didn't know he was breaking the law.

Woman struck with stick

Loni M. Clayton, 24, of the 2800 block of Washington Avenue was booked for battery Aug. 18 for allegedly hitting Tammy L. Naler of the same block in the chest with a stick.

The incident happened at about 4 a.m. Police had been called earlier, at 1:35 a.m., in reference to Clayton allegedly breaking windows at the residence. Police had told Clayton to leave the premises, which he did.

Detector, glasses taken

Keith Melton of the 3000 block of Sinclair Avenue reported that somebody entered his pickup truck during the night of Aug. 18-19 and took a radar detector, a pair of sunglasses, a 3/4-inch drill, a tape recorder and $20 cash.

Pistol pointed at officer

James M. Stagner, 27, of the 2700 block of Iowa Street was charged with aggravated assault and disorderly conduct Aug. 19 for allegedly pointing a pistol at an off-duty Fairview Heights police officer attempting to serve a subpoena to someone else at Stagner's address.

1987 motorcycle stolen

Anthony Robert of the 2800 block of Madison Avenue reported that somebody cut two chains securing his motorcycle and took the bike during the night of Aug. 17-18. The motorcycle was a red and orange 1987 Honda CR250R. It was taken from Robert's yard.

$1,200 diamond ring gone

Luena A. Chester, of the 2700 block of W. 20th Street reported Aug. 18 that during the last two weeks somebody took a $1,200 gold and diamond ring from her residence, along with her wallet and a credit card.

Hospitalized after beating

Ricky J. Collison, 18, of the 2500 block of Edwards Street was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for surgery Aug. 18 after he was badly beaten by five men seeking revenge for an insult Collison allegedly made toward one of the men's girlfriends.

The incident happened at a residence in the 2100 block of Benton Street. Earlier, Collison had allegedly sexually insulted the woman as she rode down the street on a bicycle.

Her boyfriend showed up at the Benton address and hit Collison on the head with a baseball bat. The other four then joined in beating Collison, who required surgery for two deep cuts in his back.

Collison was admitted to the hospital and released the next day. No charges had been filed as of Aug. 20.

Deputy injured in crash

GRANITE CITY—A Madison County sheriff's deputy was injured Monday night when his patrol car was struck by a motorist at Nameeki and Maryville roads.

Deputy Gary M. Marsala, 36, of Edwardsville was speeding through the intersection with his car's emergency lights on when it was rammed by an auto driven by Roger D. Crites, 41, of Granite City.

Marsala was southbound on Maryville Road and Crites was eastbound on Nameeki Road (Illinois 203). The accident happened at 11:12 p.m.

Marsala was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was treated and released.

Crites, who attempted to stop, as indicated by 76 feet of skid marks, was issued a citation for failure to yield to an emergency vehicle.

The accident was handled by the Illinois State Police.

Stronger job rights for disabled

The Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) grants civil rights protection to the nation's citizens with disabilities. It deals with workplace discrimination based on disability.

The law defines disability as physical or mental impairments affecting one or more life activities. People with epilepsy, diabetes and AIDS are included.

Businesses with 25 or more employees must be in compliance within two years of the bill's enactment. Employers will be prohibited from discriminating based on disability in hiring, firing, advancement and compensation.

Employers are required to make reasonable accommodations for applicants with disabilities, unless the employer can show that doing so would cause undue hardship. As defined in the law, "reasonable accommodations" could include making facilities accessible to the handicapped and restructuring jobs.

"Undue hardship" is defined as an action requiring significant difficulty or expense. Such factors as business size and budget will be taken into account in deciding whether a change is reasonable or a hardship.

Under the Act, public telephone service is required to provide interstate or intrastate telecommunication relay services to hearing- or speech-impaired employees who use non-voice terminal devices (TDDs).

The law also outlines requirements and timetables for making public transportation by bus and rail accessible to those in wheelchairs. However, no retrofitting of present buses is required.

Public accommodations must remove architectural and communication barriers in existing facilities where possible, and provide auxiliary aids and services. This applies to public places including hotels, theaters, doctors' offices and shelters for the homeless.

The remedies of the Americans With Disabilities Act are similar to those afforded women and minorities under the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Fix these obvious hazards

No child has fallen in that we know of, but why wait for someone to fall in the monstrous excavation holes at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues?

Fix these obvious hazards now. While the EPA does its paperwork shuffle, construction at the old Novotny Chevrolet site has ground to a standstill. Unfortunately, that has left four gaping holes in the earth. Eleven gasoline storage tanks were removed several weeks ago in that area by a contractor preparing to build a QuikTrip convenience store and a Jack in the Box restaurant.

The tiny barricades left behind have been a joke. Several passersby have reported children standing at the mouth of the holes, apparently getting past the obstacles without much difficulty.

We can understand the halt in construction — the EPA has thrown many a wrench into development programs. What we can't understand is the property owner's oblivious attitude. And the city's slowness to try to correct the problem.

The answer is simple: Put up bigger barricades and get after those involved to speed up this project.

We want development in downtown Granite City, but not at this cost.

Long service to area noted

It is appropriate that Gov. James R. Thompson, R-Chicago, will unveil a bust of state Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, at ceremonies Aug. 30 in the Vadalabene Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The two worked together during the past decade and a half to achieve many of the improvements at SIUE and other locations in southwestern Illinois.

The life-size sculptured bust of "Senator Sam" will be placed on permanent display in the university's health, recreation and physical education center, which is named for the veteran legislator in 1984. The bust will be mounted on a walnut pedestal attached to a wall in the lobby of the Vadalabene Center. Added later will be a cabinet containing memorabilia from the senator's Illinois General Assembly service, which dates back to 1967 and is continuing.

Vadalabene's contributions to our environs are countless and we applaud those who are supporting this enduring memorial.

Better use of energy vital

Linkage between separate problems sometimes can assist in finding solutions. Perhaps it might be useful to link the current Middle East crisis and the global warming trend.

The Persian Gulf confrontation focuses urgent attention on the world's limited oil supply and the enormous economic impact of oil's future availability, or lack of availability. It obviously would be prudent to try to become less dependent on fossil fuels of all kinds.

Reports this week and earlier in the summer have made the same point, for a different reason. The heavy reliance on burning of fossil fuels is upsetting the Earth's atmosphere, creating increased warming and potentially flooding vast land areas due to thawing of part of the polar ice.

We doubt that the solar-panel-powered motor vehicles that competed in a cross-country race this summer are the answer. But there is no question that we must strive for technological breakthroughs, or do a better job of conserving energy, or utilize alternate fuels more effectively or, more likely, try to make headway toward all of the above goals.

With the oil-squeeze squeezing providing immediate pressure, and with the warming pattern threatening much of the world's population in future years, it is imperative that all become much more fuel-conscious.

Quote-unquote: Sometimes words don't match reality

Alderman Casmer Skubish is older. But he's not ready to be put out to pasture.

He probably thinks the paper is ready to put him there, however, and while I don't necessarily agree with that notion, I can understand why he'd feel that way.

Several weeks ago, the 76-year-old Skubish was the victim of misquote that grievous human error that hauled reporters from time to time. The incident occurred during the June 19 Granite City Council meeting. It was a session marked by many quotes from many people, only a fraction of which made it to print.

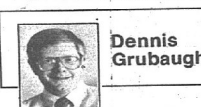

Skubish called me to complain that the words he was credited as saying weren't even close. I told him I'd get to the bottom of it, and I did, though this many weeks later I'm afraid to say that he was right, and we weren't.

The words we used were close, but they got twisted to give a whole new meaning. Thanks to the wonders of modern technology, I was able to go back and review a videotape of the council meeting.

This is what our reporter quoted Skubish as saying: "You think you don't have to listen to me because I'm just old and senile."

This is what he really said: "Do you categorize people that are getting older? Are they senile? No. People are getting older, but that doesn't mean we're senile."

In this context, it's easy to see what he meant, but tough to see what he was referring to. In watching the complete exchange on videotape several times, I was able to determine that Skubish had been insulted by remarks of another council member earlier in the meeting and went on the offensive to demonstrate that age and senility are not necessarily linked.

Now, how did we make our mistake? It's not always possible to get words exactly as they are said, but as long as we come pretty close, and don't distort the meaning, most people feel they are fairly represented.

I had to listen to the videotape exchange about 10 times before I got words exactly as Skubish said it. Our reporter did not have that luxury.

The words were also hard to understand. Add to that the volatile nature of this particular session, and even the best scribe would have trouble keeping up with the pace.

Perhaps we should have paraphrased Skubish, rather than attempt a direct quote. Skubish was trying to say that he may be older, but he's not necessarily senile.

By his nature, Skubish likes to comment on most issues before the council. Sometimes those comments are worth repeating and sometimes not. But as long as we're going to repeat any of them, we might as well get them right.

You, too, can build compost bin, and should

With the changes in state law dealing with banning of yard waste from Illinois landfills, the Press-Record/Journal has received numerous comments and questions regarding composting.

Following is a step-by-step procedure on building your own compost bin, gathered from a variety of sources. We hope you find it useful in doing your share to preserve the environment.

Remove grass and sod from the area where you will construct your compost pile to allow materials to have direct contact with soil microorganisms.

The following "recipe" for constructing your compost heap is recommended for best results:

First layer: 3-4 inches of chopped brush or other coarse material on top of the soil surface allows air circulation around the base of the heap.

Second layer: 6-8 inches of mixed leaves, grass clippings, sawdust, etc. Materials should be evenly damp.

Third layer: 1 inch of soil serves as an inoculant by adding microorganisms to the heap. Fourth layer: 2 inches of manure or a handful of commercial fertilizer to provide the nitrogen needed by microorganisms. Sprinkle lime, wood ash and/or rock phosphate over the layer of manure to reduce the heap's acidity. Add water if the manure is dry.

Fifth layer: Repeat 1 to 4 until the bin is almost full. Top off the heap with a 4- to 6-inch layer of straw, and scoop out a basin at the top to catch rain water.

A properly made heap will reach temperatures of 140 degrees to 160 degrees in four to five days. At this time, you'll notice the pile "settling," a good sign that your heap is working properly.

After five to six weeks, fork the materials into a new pile, turning the outside of the old heap into the center of the new pile. Add water if necessary.

You shouldn't need to turn your heap a second time. The compost should be ready to use within three to four months.

A heap started in late spring can be ready for use in the autumn. Start another heap in the autumn for use in the spring.

You can make compost even faster by turning the pile more often. Check the internal temperature regularly. When it decreases substantially, usually after about a week, turn the pile. Compost is ready to use when it is dark brown, crumbly, and earth-smelling. Let it stabilize for a few extra days and screen it through a half-inch screen if you want the finest product.

Turn your soil, apply 1-3 inches of layers of compost, and work it in well, up to one pound, a heaping, double handful, per square foot.

These are four different types of bins that can be built:

Snow Fence Bin
Bins made with prefabricated snow fencing are popular because they are simple to make and easy to move and store. To build this bin, buy the appropriate length of prefabricated fencing and fasten two-by-fours to the bottom to form a square.

Woven Wire Bin
One easy-to-make, economical container requires only a length of woven wire fencing. Multiply the diameter you want for the compost heap by 3.2. That's the length of fencing you should buy. Fasten the ends with wire or with three or four small chain snaps, available at any hardware store, to make a circle.

Block or Brick Bin
Compost bins can be made with bricks, cement blocks or rocks. Just lay the blocks with mortar. Leave spaces between each block to permit aeration. Pile them up to form three sides of a square container or a three-bin unit. This bin is sturdy, durable and easily accessible.

Wooden Bin
Covered wooden bins allow convenient protection from pests and heavy rains. Construct bins with removable fronts or sides so that materials can be easily turned. Old wooden pallets can be used for construction. Wire mesh can be substituted for wooden sides to increase air flow.

Prefabricated compost bins can also be purchased through most gardening catalogs.

Injustice done to fine person by sleep-prone federal jurors

To the editor:

Something is seriously wrong with our judicial system when it convicts a person based on the testimony of a court-proven, self-proclaimed liar who is plea-bargaining down to save his own neck.

And something is seriously wrong when members of a federal court jury sleep on, and off through a trial that holds a person's future by a thread.

Yet, this is exactly what I saw when I attended the last day of Gayle Flood's trial.

If the judicial system could treat such an outstanding citizen so unjustly, it (unjust treatment) could happen to anyone.

Broken dreams under asphalt

To the editor:

It was with much sadness that I read the caption under a picture of one old neighborhood:

"Slated to be demolished. Neighbors in the 2100 block of Grand Avenue will have reason to rejoice starting Aug. 8 when these derelict houses and nine others are torn down."

Granite City Press-Record, Aug. 5, 1990.

In 1972, we purchased our first home at 2126 Grand Ave. and lived there for 18 years. We were a young family with many hopes and dreams for our older but much-loved home.

It is hard to believe that only 18 years these homes have become "derelict." We had many nice older neighbors who are now gone and their families have given up their old homes for one reason or another.

Perhaps if there was some kind of an incentive to pull younger families into these neighborhoods and redevelop them, this tragedy could be avoided.

You can never duplicate the character, graciousness, architecture and quality in newer homes today.

I commend the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society members in their efforts to renew Granite City's downtown area.

Their beautiful house tours are proof that there is hope for our older homes and neighborhoods.

So, please remember, when you drive by QuikTrip and Jack in the Box that under their asphalt parking lots lie the broken dreams of those who were there before.

Put welfare people to work

To the editor:

I have read your article about the yards of Granite City that may soon look like a dump.

It doesn't have to be. Put welfare people to work collecting it; buy a mulcher and then sell the mulch for fertilizer.

When (President Franklin D.) Roosevelt was in office, he gave people jobs and a paycheck. There is too much welfare being handed out for nothing in return.

Tell them to earn their money.

They can build roads; they can collect grass, leaves and tree limbs.

Women can "police" playgrounds, take care of children for working mothers and clean the schools.

Roosevelt put people to work during the Depression. Granite City doesn't have to look like a dump. Where is the creativity of the politicians?

Don't add 3 pro-death votes

To the editor:

Three unshakeably pro-abortion votes will be established in Congress if Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., has his way. He has introduced legislation to make the District of Columbia a state.

NOW (National Organization for Women) and Jesse Jackson's Rainbow Coalition are supporting the effort.

Kennedy expects to accomplish his purpose by a majority vote in Congress. A two-thirds vote is not necessary, nor is an amendment to the Constitution.

Sen. Jesse Helms, perhaps the most ardent pro-lifer in Washington, is leading the fight against it.

A petition, nationally distributed by his National Congressional Club, asserts that "stated for the District of Columbia is a wholly partisan scheme by the liberal movement to advance their own far-left political agenda."

The District of Columbia is known as the murder capital of the world. The Constitution specifies that the District of Columbia remains a protected area under the control of Congress. Officials have proven themselves totally incapable of adequately governing their city.

All who oppose abortion, pornography and sodomy should be up in arms against this legislative travesty by the pro-abortion, pseudo-Catholic politician, Sen. Kennedy, who made Chappaquiddick a household word years ago when he villainously abandoned Mary Jo Kopechne to a watery grave in Poucha Pond.

Concerned citizens may obtain a copy of the petition by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to GPM Associates, P.O. Box 2168, St. Louis.

Meanwhile, all who believe in the sanctity of pre-natal life should immediately call or write their congressional representatives and demand they kill this blatantly transparent scam to install three pro-death votes in Congress.

Entrepreneurs

In tough times, businessmen find new ways to make it

By Andy Sierling
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Roger Furman doesn't claim to have foreseen the layoffs that would hit McDonnell Douglas this year. But four years ago, he and his wife, Joellyn, ventured into the franchise business and opened Mailboxes, Etc. in Clayton.

Today, they own a second store in Dierberg's Clocktower Place in Florissant.

"When we started this, the defense business at McDonnell Douglas was going strong," said Roger, 49, a technical specialist from North County.

"We needed something more than the job," he said, "something we could put our time into and see the results."

Roger said Mailboxes, Etc. is the 11th largest growing franchise in the country. The stores have a full range of postal and business services.

The efforts Roger and Joellyn put into their businesses are paying off. In 1989, their North County store did more business in instant tax refunds than any other Mailboxes, Etc. in the United States. For this accomplishment, they won a trip to Hawaii through the franchise.

Joellyn Furman left her job as a personnel administrator at a manufacturing company to work full time at Mailboxes Etc. while Roger continues his job at McDonnell Douglas.

The Furmans are among a growing number of what are being called defensive entrepreneurs: people who are keeping their regular job while developing their own businesses.

They're sacrificing weekday evenings and weekends to moonlight as businessmen.

"It's changed our lives entirely. We live, eat and breathe Mailboxes," said Joellyn Furman.

For the Furmans and others, part of the reason for such sacrifice is the new job insecurity that has arisen in America. The wave of corporate restructuring that swept across America in the 1980s took with it hundreds of thousands of jobs.

"By and large, people don't trust their companies anymore," Quinn Mills, a professor of business administration at Harvard Business School, told the Wall Street Journal recently.

People who began their careers 20 or more years ago thought they had an implied contract guaranteeing job security as long as they did their jobs well. "That contract no longer exists," Mills said.

Paving a future

John Hamm III wasn't so much worried about job security as he was about making ends meet when he started Hamm Construction Co. in Madison, 18 years ago. Hamm, 43, was — and still is — employed at Shell Oil's Wood River refinery.

"We had two kids and a third one on the way, and we needed a little extra money," he said. Hamm's company started out primarily as an asphalt paving and sealing company, but in recent years it branched out into swimming pool construction and siding application. In a good year, the company grosses as much as $300,000, Hamm said.

Hamm does plan to keep knocking himself out indefinitely. His son, John IV, 21, is already taking over some of his duties at the construction company.

As for the far future, Hamm says, "55 is retirement day. Hamm's eight rental units will be paid for when he turns 55, and he plans to retire from Shell with 30 years of service.

Going all the way

Carl Wolff didn't start his business because he was afraid of being laid off. He just wanted to be his own boss.

Wolff, 31, of Creve Coeur, is vice president of Laser Toner Services Inc., based at the St. Louis County Business Enterprise Center on Page Boulevard.

He began the business in June of 1987, prior to which he was a flight instructor.

Wolff says he saw the potential for growth in the new business, which refills and services toner cartridges for laser printers and Canon copiers, and ini-

"By and large, people don't trust their companies anymore."

Add that to the $40,000 a year he makes at Shell as an operator, and the rental income from eight apartments he owns, and Hamm has paved himself and his family a nice, smooth economic future.

His wife, Carol, has figured in that success. She not only handles the company office, but she drives the heavy equipment and even shovels asphalt now and then. She is a member of the Operating Engineers union.

The Hammes now have five children, ranging in age from 13 to 21. Back in 1973, the Hammes sat down and set themselves a goal: "To have enough money to give (the children) an education when it came time for it."

Besides 80 hours a week at his two jobs, Hamm is also active in civic circles. He is an alderman in Madison and president of the Madison School Board and the Madison High School Boosters.

"I'm on a very tight schedule," he said. He sleeps a maximum of five hours a night, more often four.

That schedule doesn't leave much time for his family, but he says they are "very understanding. (When) we get a chance to go, we all load in the car and go to Missouri to visit my Dad. And we spend a lot of time in the pool in the back yard."

Hamm does plan to keep knocking himself out indefinitely. His son, John IV, 21, is already taking over some of his duties at the construction company.

As for the far future, Hamm says, "55 is retirement day. Hamm's eight rental units will be paid for when he turns 55, and he plans to retire from Shell with 30 years of service.

Carl Wolff didn't start his business because he was afraid of being laid off. He just wanted to be his own boss.

Wolff, 31, of Creve Coeur, is vice president of Laser Toner Services Inc., based at the St. Louis County Business Enterprise Center on Page Boulevard.

He began the business in June of 1987, prior to which he was a flight instructor.

Wolff says he saw the potential for growth in the new business, which refills and services toner cartridges for laser printers and Canon copiers, and initially went into the project on a part-time basis, going to full-time this March.

"You can't go home and forget about the business like you can with a 9-to-5 job. It's the harder road to take."

Some people become entrepreneurs out of sheer necessity — like Russ Marks.

"It was either working for less, or working for myself," says Marks, 43, who 13 years ago opened Marks Music Co. Inc. in Festus, Mo.

Marks had worked for Southern Pacific Railroad for 13 years when a scarcity of work started cutting into his pay.

It was the impetus Marks needed to fulfill a lifelong dream. He used his savings to open a music store in a shopping center on Highway 61-67.

South St. Louisian Anna Navarro, 43, left a lucrative, secure position with the Monsanto Co. 10 years ago to open her own business.

At her company, Work Transitions, 2256 S. 30th St., Navarro now helps others make career decisions.

"As director of corporate social responsibility at Monsanto, one of my projects was to develop a program for managers," Navarro says. "I discovered I really liked helping people with career-related questions."

Jane L. Anton has no shortage of professional credentials. The 43-year-old St. Louisian spent seven years as assistant professor and chairman of the counseling psychology department at Washington University.

Anton left her prestigious position at the university eight years ago and opened her own private practice, Anton-Kent-Gavlick, to form Work Transitions.

Students don't know what to think when they see Jim Forrier paving a driveway.

He looks drastically different wearing jeans and a T-shirt covered with asphalt than he does teaching English to seventh graders at West Junior High School in Belleville.

Forrier, owner of Forrier Asphalt in Belleville, started teaching in 1969, then started his own asphalt paving business one summer to help hold him over financially until the next year.

"This is about as good as getting from teaching as you can get."

Others at the ceremony included the Bricklayers' Ed Jacobs, Teamsters and Laborers' John Fleming and Chemical Workers' Neri Pritchard and Virgil Case.

Began in April 1989, the softball tournament was completed in time for the second annual Granite City Steel interdepartmental softball tournament Sept. 22-24. The 18-team tourney was won by the Cold Strip team.

LAND AND MATERIALS were donated by National, and construction was done by volunteers from among GC Steel's hourly and salaried employees.

There are two lighted ball fields, bleachers, restrooms, a concession stand and a parking lot. The Granite City Steel Employees Softball Association is in charge of operating and maintaining the complex.

Of course, steelmaking is not all fun and games. But teamwork obviously plays a big role in its success.

to work more productively and keep expenses under tight control.

"One key is to increase the amount of our total production of prime-quality steel that commands top-dollar prices."

"Another is to reduce the number of man-hours required to produce a ton of steel. We have made progress in both areas over the past five years. We need to continue and accelerate that improvement."

"OUR GRANITE CITY Division is important to National Steel. The division has made great strides in the last few years in improving product quality."

"The reputation for quality has helped in the marketplace."

"Moreover, Granite City has a very good location. About 40 percent of the nation's customers for flat-rolled steel products are located within a 500-mile radius of our plant."

"And we can take advantage of an excellent network of river, rail and highway links to serve that sizable market."

'Field of dreams' inspires Granite City workers, company chairman

Kokichi Hagiwara is impressed and inspired by the men and women of Granite City Steel.

Among other things, the National Steel Corporation chairman is proud of the way NSC Granite City Division employees pitched in to create a sports facility here.

As he explained to a local gathering, "Kemp Beall (vice president and general manager of the Granite City Division) has mentioned the National Steel Recreation Facility built by Granite City employees on their own time."

"THE FACILITY has two beautiful, lighted softball fields. 'I am a movie fan. I see many movies each year,' Hagiwara said.

"Last year, my favorite film was 'Field of Dreams.' 'I congratulate our employees for their hard work. I know that for many of them, this was their 'Field of Dreams.'" in Granite City date back more than four years.

HAGIWARA'S FRIENDSHIPS

After being appointed president of National Steel on July 1, 1986, he arrived from Tokyo in mid-July to see NSC's headquarters in Pittsburgh and its three divisions, in Granite City, Portage, Ind., and Ecorse, Mich.

During the visit here July 25, 1986, he toured the plant and lunched with managers and union officials. He said he would be president for all employees, not the "Japanese president of an American company."

HAGIWARA STRESSED the importance of steel to the industrial stability of the world and specifically of America, where, he said, the steel industry is the backbone of the nation and supports millions of families.

He told of his dedication to NSC's mission to be a future world-class steel company.

He said decisions would be made together, not as a Japanese or American decision, but as a cooperative decision of the best interest of National Steel and Granite City Steel.

HE HAD JOINED Nippon Kokan, owner of 70 percent of National Steel, in 1950 after receiving a metallurgical engineering degree from Tokyo University. He spent the next 10 years in the metallurgical and research areas of NKK's Fukuyama and Keihin works until 1970, when he moved to the Tokyo headquarters.

Named assistant general manager of steel technology and engineering, he advanced to general manager of iron and steel Engineering in 1976 and joined NKK's board in 1978.

In 1982, Hagiwara became managing director; in 1984, senior managing director. He was named head of NKK's engineering division in 1985.

IN THE EARLY '80s, he was responsible for NKK's portion of a joint venture that constructed a new steel mill for the government of Egypt.

NKK, meanwhile, bought half of National Steel in 1984. NSC president and a director since 1986, he was elected chairman and chief executive officer on June 26, 1990.

He has commented, "The Steelworkers and other unions representing our employees have been quite supportive."

"Much of that can be credited to Buddy Davis, director of District 34 of the United Steelworkers. He is a tough man at contract time, but he has consistently supported our efforts to strengthen National Steel."

DAVIS AND BURL HAND represented the Steelworkers last Sept. 22 at the grand opening of the National Steel Recreation Facility at East 2nd Street and Nankook Road.

Aqua

A source at Leo Eisenberg & Co. Realtors, who has the listing for the Wyss property, said the location was ideal for "a large-scale mixed-use development," but he said such a development requires a focal point.

Right now, (the focal point) would appear to be the Aquacenter," the source said.

Other landowners have also offered to donate land for the Aquacenter. Restaurateur David Thebeau has offered 40 acres, and farmer Charles Luehmman has offered about 55 acres.

Having the Aquacenter nearby would increase the value of other land in Pontoon Beach. But nobody can make any rational decisions on development until the site of the Aquacenter is determined, sources said.

"A lot of things are waiting to see where the Aquacenter goes," said village Mayor Glen Wilson.

Leonard Sonnenschein, president and executive director of Mid-America Aquacenter, said the state-funded feasibility study would examine all potential sites to decide which would be best for the $4 million to $50 million Aquacenter.

Bowler

"If I'd have thought it was illegal I wouldn't have done it," Bowler said. "I trusted a professional person. I can't change what happened."

Federal prosecutors dropped three other falsified statements charges against Bowler in return for his agreement to plead guilty to one count and to testify against Flood.

Under the plea agreement, the prosecutors will ask the judge to take Bowler's testimony and cooperation into account when deciding on his sentence.

A federal grand jury indicted Bowler in December 1988 and he entered his guilty plea in February 1989.

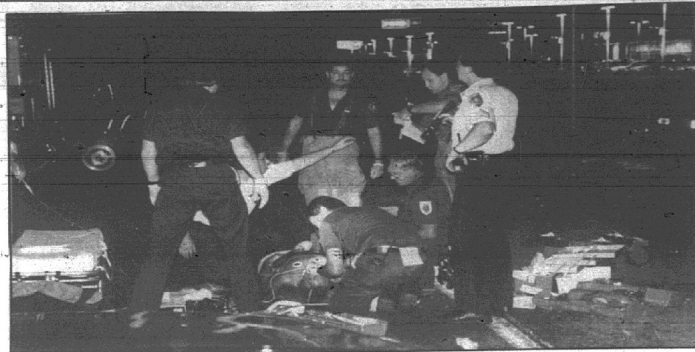

The plea could result in a maximum prison term of two years and a $250,000 fine.

Bowler taught for almost four years in Granite City schools before taking a job at the Madison County Special Education Services Regional III center in Cottage Hills, he said. Bowler recently resigned from that job.

Granite City District Superintendent Gilbert Walmsley said Bowler left his job as a faculty member in Granite City "with an excellent record from this district."

Trivia

The average price of a home in Illinois during the first half of 1990 was $115,906, according to statistics compiled by the Century 21 Real Estate Corp.

PARAMEDICS from the Granite City Fire Department, with the help of Granite City Police, work on one of the victims of a head-on collision on Illinois 3.

Crash

(Continued from Page 1A) versity Medical Center from the St. Elizabeth Emergency Room. Both were listed in critical condition in the Intensive Care Unit there Thursday morning.

Conflicting statements have been given to police. Spann, who was driving a 1984 Chevrolet Impala, told police he was driving south on Illinois 3 and stopped at a flashing red light at Pontoon Road. He said he then proceeded to turn left onto Pontoon and was struck by a northbound 1984 Dodge Van driven by Ballentine.

However, several witnesses reportedly told police the traffic signal was not flashing, but undergoing its regular cycle at the time of the accident. Police also reported the evidence at the scene indicated Spann's car struck the van and was going about 55 mph.

Spann reportedly told police he had been drinking and police reported finding several open cans of beer in the floorboard of Spann's car.

Noble was a passenger in Spann's car and Murray was a passenger in Ballentine's car.

Ballentine and Murray remained unconscious after the accident and could not be interviewed by police.

Hanke

(Continued from Page 1A) result of the All-Volunteer Army. It would take at least a month to reactivate the Selective Service System and, once the draft started, take another six months of basic and specialized training before the first new soldier would be ready to deploy.

As a result, the reserve and National Guard became a first, rather than last, resort.

"As a company commander I discovered we trained harder, and more realistically, than we did in the 82nd Airborne," he said.

Since joining the National Guard, Hanke said, he has seen height and weight standards get rid of the "fat boys" and the emphasis continue to shift from routine details to tactical training.

As a member of the Guard, Hanke has been promoted to major, graduated from Command and General Staff College and, this summer at the age of 40, graduated from Air Assault School. He is currently the intelligence officer at the brigade headquarters.

"There are three basic questions on everyone's mind," Hanke said. "They are 'Am I going to go?', 'When am I going to go?' and 'What am I going to be doing, and what's going to be happening by the time I get there?'"

Hanke said he has been studying newspaper and magazine accounts of the Middle East as well as the Area Studies prepared by the Department of State.

"I just finished the Area Study of Saudi Arabia and it contained a lot of good information on religion, customs, geography and other things a soldier will need to know," he said. "If there is time, I want to prepare a fact sheet based on what I've learned to pass out at our drill in two weeks."

... former alderman

Hanke said he isn't looking forward to going, but he is ready. He said five days a week he runs four miles, does 72 pushups and follows them with a short karate workout.

Combat, he said, is not what you expect as a member of the National Guard. At the same time, you know it's a possibility. "You make your bets and you take your chances," he said.

Madison Democratic Ladies stage fund-raiser

The Madison Democratic Ladies held its own fund-raising picnic in July and is looking forward to its centennial celebration next year.

Club President Eleanor Armour said, "We held our picnic last year with the Fire Department. This is our first year to hold one by ourselves."

A live band provided musical entertainment, and the Polish Roman Catholic Union Dance Troupe and the Happy Strings Junior Tamburitians both performed.

Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, stopped by to thank supporters. Other Democratic dignitaries included Walter Acts 12:6 . . . "Peter therefore was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him."

Herod the king had already killed
James the brother of John. Now Peter was imprisoned and death was sure to be his fate.

The time had come for serious prayer. The church dropped all formalities. God's people began to cry out. This was not the time for choosing the right word, nor for proper intercession of the voice. Peter would die! The church prayed without ceasing unto God!

Perhaps you are in a crisis situation. Sick, afflicted, out of work, marriage on the rocks, etc. so, so, then it's time to pray. Tell God what you need out of your heart. If you are sincere that sincerely will move God quicker than any words your lips can form.

God saw to it that Peter was set free. God will answer your prayers too. You don't need experience to pray. Just a need that only God can supply.

Why not try prayer today!

Miners lose; open playoffs at Valmeyer Saturday

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

SAUGET — The Miners will open the Mon-Clark League playoffs at Valmeyer on Saturday after a 4-3 loss to Waterloo on Wednesday.

Wednesday's games were played to break a triple tie atop the Monroe Division standings. The Miners, Waterloo and Valmeyer finished tied for first with 19-9 league records, but Granite City's loss gives the Miners (31-18) the third seed in the playoffs. Waterloo took the top seed with an 8-6 win over Valmeyer in the second game Wednesday.

Darin Hendrickson (9-2) will pitch in Saturday's 2 p.m. quarterfinal game at Valmeyer. The Buds will host Edwardsville in the other Monroe Division game Saturday. The winners of Saturday's games will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday for a spot in the league finals. The Miners will play at home Sunday only if they face Edwardsville.

The Miners seemed more prepared to play Wednesday than they were Sunday in Edwardsville, but the Buds got the draw and were home team, and the last at-bat made the difference. Mike Wirth's bases-loaded single off Mike Robertson in the bottom of the seventh inning won the game.

Mark Schulte got his second double of the game with one out and moved to third on a wild pitch. Jim Wahlg and Mike Roy were intentionally walked to load the bases, but Robertson got behind on Wirth, who hit a 3-1 pitch up the right-center alley.

"Mike threw well," said catcher/manager Daren DePew. "He's an athlete. He'll do the job for us anywhere. We just couldn't get a hit at the right time. But we played well."

The Miners left eight men on base. DePew hit into a 6-4 force play with the bases loaded in the fifth as Tom Greco was out on a bang-bang play at second. Tim Hogan stranded two more in the sixth with a fly ball to center and DePew flied to left with Greco at third and two outs in the seventh.

Mark Begando started and was rocked for four hits and two runs in the first inning. But he shut the Buds down in the next two frames and should be ready to start Sunday. DePew got an RBI single off Waterloo lefty Bob Donius in the second, then Rich Wilson singled and scored on Hendrickson's sacrifice fly in the third for a 2-2 tie.

The Miners took the lead in the fifth when Tim Hogan hit the first over-the-fence home run of his life with two outs. It flew over the 363 sign in left-center.

"I need to work on my home run trot," said Hogan, who was flying into second base when the ball disappeared.

But Roy relieved Donius with two men on and escaped trouble in his 2½ innings to get the win. The Buds tied the game in the bottom of the fifth on Roy's two-out single through the hole between short and third to score John Wahlg.

Metro East Night League
Granite City will play Millstadt tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Edwardsville's Hoppe Park in the Metro East Night League semifinals. Neither team has a lighted field available, thus the neutral site. Millstadt defeated East Alton 9-4 on Tuesday in a one-game playoff for fourth place. DePew said John Moad (1-1) would pitch tonight, with the winner facing Trenton for the Night League championship next Wednesday. Trenton defeated Sauget 3-1 in the other semifinal game last night.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Aiming for state

Terrell, Birdsong, Rich lead Warrior 'revival'

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — By Warrior standards, the mid-1980s represented a soccer dry spell.

For three straight seasons (1986-88), Granite City not only didn't win a state title but failed to advance as far as the state finals. For a program which had gone to state 10 times in the first 12 years of the state tournament, it hurt to see Alton (1984) and Collinsville (1985-86) go north.

But the seniors on the 1990 team have been both witnesses and contributors to a return to old-fashioned Warrior dominance. This year, those seniors will be aiming to send the Warriors to state for the fourth time in four years. Only three other graduating classes can make that claim (1979-81).

There were no freshmen on the varsity roster in 1987, but there are three seniors on this year's team aiming for their third straight appearance in the finals. Skip Birdsong, Pat Rich and Dan Terrell were all sophomores on the 1988 team which finished third in the state despite a strike-shortened season. The significance is not lost on any of them.

"We definitely want to go to state three years in a row," said Rich. "All you have to do is look around and see the tradition here."

"It was great going to state the last couple of years, but this senior year means the most to all of us," said Birdsong. "There is no next year."

Rich, Birdsong and Terrell have evolved from supporting players as sophomores to leaders as seniors.

"Most of the seniors realize it's now our turn to be the leaders," Terrell said. "I respected and listened to guys like John Van Buskirk, Matt Cook and

THE OLD PROS: Although they're wearing the jerseys of West Germany, the 1990 World Cup champions, these three Warriors seniors will settle for their third trip to state in three years. Leading Granite City will be (left to right) seniors Dan Terrell, Skip Birdsong and Pat Rich.

Chris Ryan the last couple of years. And in my freshman year Kirk Mills was a great leader."

"You're just trying to learn things your sophomore year, but now you realize you're a teacher for the younger guys," said Birdsong. "We're looking forward to it. Soccer season is my favorite time of the year."

Birdsong can be a threat offensively when coach Gene Baker has put him in that role.

But he might be asked to help anchor the defense more this year, while Terrell and Rich will be stabilizers in the backfield as well. "It's our job as seniors to talk on the field even more than we have in the past," said Terrell. "That's one of the hardest things to do. We forget to talk a lot of times, but we'll have to keep the younger guys in the game all the time."

Baker is comfortable with his trio of two-time lettermen.

"For us to be good, Pat Rich is going to have to be at his best," said Baker. "He played very well in the state tournament. He was under a lot of control the whole way, and he could be an anchor for us."

Indeed, it was control under pressure from Rich that proved

Debevc, Moniz among SIUE prospects

EDWARDSVILLE — Shhh. Brian Korbmeyer has a secret. The second-year women's soccer coach at SIUE has kept together another fine recruiting season for the Lady Cougars. The 1990 squad has 11 newcomers, including five junior college All-Americans.

Sophomore Jennifer Debevc of Granite City, a high school All-American for the Lady Warriors in 1989, will be one of the top returnees, while freshman Jennifer Moniz, a 1990 GCHS graduate, will contend for a starting spot in the backfield.

Meanwhile, Korbmeyer has put together a strong club filled with speed, smarts and style. Now it's time to show it on the field. The Lady Cougars open with a pair of games in Florida next weekend, but don't play their first regular season home game until Sept. 15.

"Barring injuries, I think we've improved ourselves tremenudously to get over the 500 mark," Korbmeyer said.

The top returning player from last season's 6-9-1 rebuilding season is sophomore Melissa Emmenegger, who scored four goals and added three assists to earn second-team All-Region honors. Emmenegger, the fastest player on the roster, figures to be joined on the front line by former Florissant Valley Community College All-American Kelly Drury and Liane Deetman. Korbmeyer said the trio could be one of the fastest front lines in the nation.

Debevc could provide support up front or at midfield. Roush, like Debevc, gained valuable experience as a freshman last year. She's from Quincy, Freshman Tricia Flood of Oak Forest could also play forward.

At midfield, Korbmeyer may have the most difficulty. He must replace three-time scoring leader Jill Miller, Sherry Flotorn and Mary Pat Leach. The lone returning starter is Lisa Pizarri, a sophomore from St. Louis. Sophomore Katie Giovanni, who saw some playing time near the end of the 1989 season after returning from a pre-season knee injury, is at full strength. Newcomers at midfield should be able to step in right away. Teri Reed, another Flo Valley standout, is expected to add her magic to the midfield. The Cougars will also look to freshman Amy Bickford, an All-State player from Collinsville.

In the backfield, Korbmeyer has put together his strongest area. Three starters return from last season. Sophomores Mindy Meek, Susan Clark and Christine Wise all will be challenged by Moniz, freshmen Candy Dodson and junior college All-American Tricia Murphy for starting positions.

Another pre-season battle figures to be in goal. Junior Marilyn Kastner holds school records for saves in a season (100) and saves in a career (245), but she will likely be tested by the fifth junior college All-American transfer from Flo Valley, Angie HIT MAN: Kevin Greene, the All-Pro linebacker of the Los Angeles Rams and a 1990 graduate of Granite City South, is donating 20 sets of Easton/Donizis shoulder pads to GCHS. Greene, who led all NFL linebackers in quarterback sacks the last two years, was named to the Easton Sports All-Hit Team for the 1990 season. Easton selected a group of the hardest hitting players in the league to promote and endorse the new pads. Greene is seen here in uniform at the NFL-AFC Pro Bowl in Honolulu last February.

GC Steel softball team wins state championship

The Granite City Steel (GCS) Softball Team won the 1990 NSA Illinois-Missouri Industrial State Softball Tournament held Aug. 18-19 at the National Steel Recreation Facility in Granite City.

GCS won the tournament the hard way by losing its first game and then advancing through the loser's bracket to win the championship. Tournament MVP Dan Simmons led the way with a .440 batting average and many excellent defensive plays in the outfield.

GCS began the tournament losing to McDonnell-Douglas by the score of 9-6. Once in the loser's bracket, GCS began its march towards another championship by blasting Clark Oil of Wood River, 20-2. The next game for GCS was a hard-fought 2-5 victory over the GCS "B" Team. GCS then met UAW Local 31 from Kansas City, prevailing 8-2 in a game in which UAW left the bases loaded with two outs in the seventh inning.

GCS completed its run through the loser's bracket with a surprisingly easy 13-2 victory over a tough Olin Bullets team from East Alton. That win gave GCS a chance to avenge its earlier defeat of the tournament by meeting MDC again, this time for the championship. In the first game, GCS found itself down early to MDC before pulling the victory out, 11-7, forcing a second game.

In the championship game, MDC scored four runs in the top of the first inning, but GCS came right back with three in the home half of the first. By GCS, MDC scored two more runs in the top of the second inning to take a 6-3 lead. But those would be the last runs scored by MDC. GCS scored three runs in the third inning and two more in the fifth to win 9-6.

GCS and McDonnell-Douglas, along with Olin, UAW Local 31, GCS "B" and Caterpillar of Peoria earned berths to the NSA Industrial World Series on Sept. 14-16 in Ft. Worth, Tex.

to be a big factor in the state championship game. He took a slap in the face from Glenbrook North captain Craig Radis, who was ejected just a minute after the Warriors had taken a 1-0 lead. The Warriors got to play the rest of the game with a one-man advantage and dominated on the way to a 2-0 win.
"We might ask Skip to play three different positions this year," said Baker. "But he can fill the bill with whatever we ask of him. Danny can be quite a creative player. He's a great dribbler and this should be his year. He hasn't quite put it all together in the past, but he has come in with a great attitude. They all have."
Birdsong has nine goals and five assists in two seasons. Terrell had a goal and two assists last year while Rich has four assists over two seasons.
"I know it will be my job to take care of the defense," Rich said. "I've been a stopper and I might be a sweeper. We know if we take care of things defensively, the goals will come."

Although they still have one more season to look forward to, the threesome agrees that playing for Baker has been a tremendous experience.

The practices are definitely hard," said Birdsong. "But if you listen to what coach Baker tells you, have faith and work hard, you'll win. He takes time for you and everyone appreciates that. Then when that last game is over and you win state, it's just the greatest feeling and it makes all the sore muscles feel better."

"They always told us if we could get to the last game at state, coach will win that one," said Terrell (Baker is 8-0 in state championship games). "It's just an honor playing in this program. You know that every team wants to beat you, but I'm not intimidated by that."

"Coach has to be the smartest guy ever," said Rich. "He demands loyalty. If you're walking down the hall at school and one of the coaches walks by, you'll hear about it if you don't say hi. How hard is that? If you're loyal to the program, good things will happen."
"At practice today, he had a list of 101 things he had drawn up to make us a better team. How many coaches would take the time for something like that?"

"Other teams will always be coming to get us, but I like that," said Birdsong.
"We thrive on pressure," said Rich. "There's nothing I like more than a 0-0 game when it's getting late. That's when we feel like nobody can beat us."

Not many have beaten this trio the last two years. Now they're looking for a three-peat.

Steelers

tions have consistently kept program cost to among the lowest in the metropolitan area.

Efforts last year included fund raising to purchase the Zamboni ice resurfacing machine from the St. Louis Arena. Major Zamboni contributors included Charles and Rhonda Mayfield, William and Rosie Zimmer, Daniel and Carol Svezia, Schwartz and Associates Productions, Corral Liquors Inc., First National Bank in Madison, Pratt & Callis P.C., Attorneys At Law, Tony's Restaurant, Hayes Excavating, Hugh and Shirley Thatcher, and Gilk's.

Other major contributors included the Bluebonnets — with an additional contribution in the name of Brett Hull for his Dec. 29 hat trick — and the Granite City Democratic Precinct Committee.

Viviano was in goal when Flo Valley won the junior college national championship in 1988 and was runner-up in 1989.
Depth was a problem for SIUE last year. The roster began at 19 and dwindled to 12 during the season thanks to injuries. But Korbemeyer crosses his fingers and hopes he has put together a team that will be able to overcome all adversity.
